Do Angels Need Haircuts? Lou Reed

In August of 1970, a 28-year-old Lou Reed quit the Velvet Underground, moved home to Long Island, New York, and embarked on a fascinating alternate creative path: poetry. Do Angels Need Haircuts? is an extraordinary snapshot of this turning point in Reed's career. Gathering poems, photographs and ephemera from this era (including previously unreleased audio of the 1971 St. Mark's Church reading), and featuring a new foreword by Anne Waldman and an afterword by Laurie Anderson, this book provides a window to a little-known chapter in the life of one of the most singular and uncompromising voices in American popular culture.

Bettina says

Wonderful book with poems by a young Lou Reed.

Everything about the book shows it was made with love.

The cover, the photos the for and lovingly written afterword by Laurie Anderson.

The book filled me with happiness it shows an unknown side of Lou.

Love the little notes which each poem by Lou from back in the day when he performed them on stage at a poetry reading.

It's really special.

The poems show his great writing skills and humor.

The book made me miss him.

But so glad this came out. I hope the Lou Reed Archive will release more from the vaults.

Thank you Laurie Anderson for doing this.

The first edition comes with a 7" vinyl. On which you can hear Lou read a couple of Poems. What a beautiful bonus.

A must have for any Lou Reed fan.
