Homecamp is an impressive package that will inspire you to switch off and get lost in the beauty and wonder that nature has to offer.

It's difficult to find nature amidst the rush, bustle and electronic pop-ups that flood our modern lives - to leave stress and hurry behind, embracing the simple pleasure to be found in pounding waves, a roaring campfire and a sky full of stars. But nature isn't as far away as you think.

Homecamp is a beautiful collection of stories and images from everyday adventurers - people who have found ways to experience and embrace the outdoors, on their terms. Some have gone on epic adventures: sold their belongings and lived in a van, trekked through the Himalayas or biked across continents. Others simply found new ways of seeing the world around them: cleaned up a beach, learned how to forage or spent a night alone in the woods. All found that their experiences in nature transformed their lives and freed them, even if only briefly, from the monotony of their 9-5 grind.

This book will inspire you to rediscover the joys and the rejuvenating power of spending time outside. Along with compelling stories, interviews and imagery, you'll find a how-to guide full of helpful tips, from how to choose and set up camp to brewing the perfect campfire coffee and enjoying the outdoors without a trace.

Jen says

"Like all things worth holding on to in life, we require regular maintenance, both mentally and physically, and Mother Nature is the ultimate mechanic." ?Filled with inspiring stories of adventurers and beautiful photos, Homecamp was a breath of fresh air. ?One of the best ways for me to re-set and refresh is to get out in nature. ?All it takes is a walk in the woods and I can literally feel the stress melt from my shoulders and my load get lighter. ?This book was inspirational, motivational, and a real delight as the photographs are stunning!

Pretty book, very hipster, strange camping advice. And who uses an Aeropress that way??
