Received this book as a giveaway. At first, I didn't think it was going to be of much use. (The title felt a little dramatic). But once I started reading, more and more did I realize that this book was sent to me by the Holy Spirit. The tools, lessons, wisdom, advice, practical prayers and routines piled high inside this book are such a blessing. I'm going to have to read this book through several times just to remind myself of everything I took from this read. Incredibly grateful for the insight I got from this. I received a new perspective not only on the power of my words, but the purpose of them--something I didn't even realize I was missing.

I won this book through GoodReads First Read program.

I Belin and Polizzi write step by step book on how to use God's word to bring blessings to your life. They start out with your foundation which is knowing God's word through studying the Bible which is your foundation. The more you study God's word the more it will be ingrained in you and come out when you are faced with issues.

Next is speaking God's blessings on yourself and others. Live out God's promises. Show others God working in your life. We have God's authority as believers to speak God's words into action.

Finally to me the most meaningful is thanking God for everything because it is all part of His plan. His time and His ways often are not ours but we end up in a better situation then if it had worked out as we originally had wanted. I need to remember this. I found it odd reading this part on Thanksgiving.

Lots of good advice using God's word. I also enjoyed the baseball examples.

Bless You Boys
