Young love. Old secrets. A girl caught in between.

Ellie Duncan does not fear the willowy and random spirits that only she can see. What truly frightens her is the idea of remaining in her small Colorado town, stuck with an overbearing mother and trapped in a future she did not choose. So once her senior year in high school is finished, Ellie has a plan to break free from the confines of boundaries and rules, live a life of her own design. When a mysterious new boy named Reese Noble crosses her path, however, she begins to question everything and everyone around her. The inhabitants of her town. Her family. Herself. All she believed to be true is no longer the same. And as she finally begins to receive answers, Ellie will realize leaving the only life she has ever known may not prove easy, particularly when love is one of the ties to be severed.

Jacquie Talento says

I won this book thru a goodreads contest and couldn't put it down for anything. I fell in love with Ellie and Reese in their own relationship and only wanted the best for them as much as they wanted it. Ellie sees spirits but doesn't want anyone to know. She is also in her last year of high school and is so ready to leave the town she has called home all her life. Until the day Reese walks into her school and shows her a love she never knew. Ellie still wants to follow thru with her own plans which means possibly leaving the one person she loves behind. Will their love last thru everything? This was just a fantastic read for me. Thank you so much for allowing me to read your book. It was well worth it.
