Richard Condon Thrillers: The Manchurian Candidate, Winter Kills, Prizzi's Honor Richard Condon

From bestselling, master political novelist Richard Condon comes a collection of three of his most well-known thrillers. His heroes deal with assassinations, greed, and corruption in the fabric of American politics.

The Manchurian Candidate: War hero Sergeant Raymond Shaw is a sleeper assassin, programmed to kill by his former North Korean captors during his time as a prisoner of war. Now he's been returned to the US, with a mission to assassinate a candidate for US President--and his former commander is the only man who can stop him.

Winter Kills: While riding in a Philadelphia motorcade, an American president is assassinated. This one is fictional, but this story is haunted by the mysteries of the Kennedy Assassination--with a complicated conspiracy that involves movie stars, oil barons, and shadowy agents at the highest levels of government.

Prizzi's Honor: Charley Partanna is a hitman for New York's most dangerous crime family--and so is his wife, Irene. When Irene cheats the Prizzis out of a sizeable sum of money, it's Charley they demand justice from. Now Charley must choose between his employers and the love of his life. A mafia thriller that will have you on the edge of your seat.

Nice Triple!

Quite a collection of stories! Obviously written by the same author but each unique in story line and tempo. Fast moving and entertaining. Good reads.

David Leonard says

Fun reads.

I saw the movie The Manchurian Candidate (with Frank Sinatra) years ago and thought it was great.... the book really brought it back to life for me. Sensational..... The other two books were just as good and if I ever get a chance to see their movies, you can bet I will. I certainly will look for more works by this author. He is top notch!
