Badass Lioness says

What a terrific series, so sad it has ended. The hot, sexy Lathem brothers' stories have sizzled, been filled with drama, and lots of love! I got hooked on Matt and Janie's story in First Class to New York. Matt Lathem, wealthy, handsome, twice divorced, bumps into Janie, a widow with teen sons, at the Portland airport on their way to New York. Sparks fly and soon they are inseparable. Due to a misunderstanding, Janie returns alone to Portland in First Class to Portland. Matt and Janie remain my favorite couple in the series!

In First Class Justice, Katy, Janie's friend, testifies against the man who almost raped her. Mark, Matt's brother, had rescued her and now finds himself falling in love with the very independent Katy. I enjoyed Katy's blunt remarks and cringed as she tried to get over everything on her own. Katy learns to allow in Mark's love for her. Shelby is introduced and her story of her abusive past.

First Class Voyage was my favorite family reunion story. I loved how Maureen, mother of the Lathem brothers, pushed Katy to marry Mark, and Katy refused! All of the Lathem brothers made an appearance in this one, and Janie's mother has her own wonderful side story. I enjoyed the interaction with the family on the cruise. The basketball game among the brothers was fun! Katy's son, Derek, and Janie's sons and Janie and Matt's kids all add to the mix.

First Class Hero is all about Paul and Nicole. This one was my least favorite only because I didn't feel the spark between Nicole and Paul until near the end of the story. I liked that Paul was a Navy Seal and a hero, and that Nicole was a teacher; that part of the story I truly enjoyed.

First Class Menu is a funny, romantic story of David, a curator at an art gallery, taking a cooking class from Lindsey, an executive chef, that became private lessons! They made a fun couple, and I enjoyed David discovering his artistic side.

First Class Rescue is Tim and Beth's story. Tim is a firefighter, who rescued Beth's dog, Cleo. She was an editor in New York, though she was from England. The description of firefighting scenes were detailed and touching. Cleo kept arriving back at Tim's firehouse; her dog played matchmaker!

First Class Stamp is a love triangle between Ben and two single mothers. Terrific that the mothers are seen as attractive women, each with a wonderful son. This story starts in Brazil and describes the pre-olympic protests along with a suspenseful issue of who is targeting MEL Holdings Brazilian building. The need for a stamp unites Ben to both sons, but it is the mothers, Maria and Sophia, who catch his attention. He falls in love with one and introduces the other to her love interest.

First Class Farewell starts off very differently. One of the characters is killed. The events leading up to the death is skillfully woven. So sad, so touching. The Lathem family, including Shelby, arrive at Matt's place in the Bahamas to celebrate the life of a deceased loved one and to celebrate births, pregnancies and new, true love between two that had been growing over the years. It is a fun, loving, touching end to the series.

First Class Devotion is the story of Maureen and Peter, the parents of the Lathem brothers. I enjoyed both of them whenever they appeared in the series, so it was fitting that their love story, that had lasted over 60 years and produced handsome, successful sons who created their own love stories, was included. Maureen tells the touching, romantic love story of Peter and her. Their struggles to overcome parental resistance, loss and the transition into their first year of marriage.

One of the things I loved about the series is how much in love and how affectionate the Lathem brothers were with their wives as well as Maureen and Peter. Each brother had his own personality and story. Each of the women they fell in love with had their own personality and story. It kept the series interesting with my wanting to know what happens next. I enjoyed discovering how terrific Matt and Janie's HEA was. In each story, they had their own fun, sexy scene! I recommend this erotic, romance series for the diversity of the stories, the family that is always there for each other, and the love that is woven throughout.

Took a while to finish

I finally finished the series. I really liked the first couple of books but after that not so much. I skimmed through the last few just to finish the set. I read several other books in between these to break up the monotony.

Writing was alright and I really liked and related to some of the characters but I couldn't get a sense for most of them.

Great series

Great stories and series. all are stories anyone can relate to. Great reading books about rich but down to earth humble people who respect for human beings show through. really enjoyed this series cause reminds me of our family but without the $$$.

This series covers the love lives of all seven of the children, one grand-son, and of course the matriarch parents story. Each story line touches topics that are sensitive or in some cases controversial. This set includes gay marriage and adoptions, infertility, child abuse/neglect, rape, assault, lies, betrayal, insecurity and but over all love is primary. I like how you go right from one book into the next and it just keeps taking off from the previous book. While each book is about a different relationship, all the characters from the previous books are still mixed in so you can see how interconnected each family member is with the rest.

Great Series.

I started this journey by reading,a free copy of the first story, First Class to New York. I loved it so much that I went and bought the entire series. I totally fell in love with the Lathem family. I downloaded the first book in this series because it was being offered for free. I fell in serious like with this series, family and author and immediately downloaded the whole series in-bundle. I was not disappointed. Each story is unique and full of sweetness and charm.

Highly recommend for anyone in need of some happily-ever-after endings and just enjoy a sweet story with a few angst but mostly charm.

What an incredible series!! The "First Class" books will take you on a journey of love, family, friendship, heartache and triumph. Each book delves a little deeper into each of the Lathem boys' lives, while still keeping the reader up to date on the goings-on of the characters in the previous books. AJ Harmon has captured the lives of the Lathem family with masterful precision; as the reader, you feel like you are in the room with them, as the story unfolds. You will laugh, cry, be annoyed and feel triumphant. I feel like I know the Lathem family, and want them to invite me over for Sunday dinner!

AJ Harmon has captured the lives of one close-knit family in the "First Class" books. It is a wonderful series, and I highly recommend it!

As others have done, I did not realize that there was a complete collection till I read the 1st for free and the 2nd I purchased and then the collection. I enjoyed the suspense of which son would fall next. It was fun to hear about different places in NY City...and the city lifestyle. I look forward to reading more of A.J.'s books in the future

Andrea Huseman says

I have read each of the books in this series. There really is absolutely no accurate way to express the quality and magnitude of each one. A rating system was difficult for me, I felt 5 was never high enough. Take eight brothers (all with distinctive personalities) being guided by two strong loving monarchs and you get wonderful individualized life journeys. Book 1 -8 is the detailed paths chosen by each brother to reach a fulfilled satisfying placement in their lives both professionally and personally. Oh! What paths they are!!! Nothing smooth or easy about them-- down right treacherous at times. Full of suspense, romance, emotions (your heart will be all over the place), serious life subjects, comedy, array of family relationships, etc. No journey or life path would be complete without characters that touch and impact in some way. Supporting and vital roles that help encourage and provide assistance when needed. You get to meet and love/dislike some amazing primary and secondary roles in these love stories. Great the way stories are extended into the next book. Each one has a HEA but you get to revisit them. The writing style and format help make for very quick and smooth reads. It is difficult to put them down. Excellent usage of descriptive terminology so realism is felt as you read. Book 9 does a superb job of bringing a full circle conclusion to this outstanding series. The storyline does a great job interconnecting new and preexisting material. Book 10 (Devotion) is a sweet in depth look into the start and formation of the relationship that brought about this entire family. You get to see how the monarchs of the family found each other and fell in love. This is by far one of the best series you will ever read. Your reading world will forever be affected. They will have a piece of your heart when you finish. I HIGHLY RECOMMEND. AndreaAH
