I loved this whole story and the characters. I was a little concerned about one of the characters being involved in the attempts to kidnap the babies.

My review today is on the Love Inspired Suspense, Guarding the Babies. I really enjoy Sandra's work. This book is an excellent example of her writing abilities. This book is well written, action packed, and full of intrigue. Sandra has woven her faith throughout this story like an intricate tapestry. I know you are going to love it.

Singer Holly Lee has come home to deal with the orphaned twins of her sister. She's awakened to silence from the nursery. She finds a man trying to abduct the babies. She attacks the man with a broom and fights him off. She calls 911 and they send her old boyfriend she hadn't seen for ten years.

Deputy Sheriff Cole Jackson comes when he hears that Holly is in trouble. They were once very close. He was a part of her band but he let her go. He knew she had the talent to make it but he also knew he didn't. Now he is in a place where he can help her. Can he protect them without losing his heart again? He's determined to keep her and the babies safe. They soon find themselves in a mess they never dreamed of.

A journey of two souls that were meant to be together. Their lives and the lives of the babies in jeopardy. They must learn to forgive each other, trust each other, but most of all trust in God. He has a plan for these two, a good plan and not for evil. God has a plan for you too, a plan for a hope and a future. Give Him your heart and watch Him turn your life around.
