High School Debut, Vol. 11 Kazune Kawahara

Can a junior high jock turn high school sweetheart overnight? When Haruna hits 9th grade suddenly boys seem much more interesting than softball! Will Haruna's high school debut end up in heartbreak hotel?

Haruna becomes worried when she sees Yoh hanging out with an unattractive classmate. (Yoh does seem to have strange taste in women after all...) She has good reason for feeling uneasy--it looks like this girl really does want to sabotage their relationship!

was slightly disappointed from here on out. when haruna realizes what it means to spend the night with her boyfriend, she decides "so what" and marches on ahead. sort of an odd decision since she can literally count on one hand how many times she has not only kissed yoh, but has been kissed altogether. i would think that she would be a little more apprehensive about making that leap. but what really gets me is that when it doesn't happen, they imply that they will sneak away at some point to have "alone time," but it never happens. i hate to say it, but i was looking forward to that development in the story. you know, i think i'm going to write a story with it stating the morning after "alone time," and go from there. i think all of this unrealistic build up can just be bypassed by doing so. you don't have to see anything, that would be awkward, but it could be implied. ambiguity is better for these matters in literature anyway.

Christina says

Haruna becomes uneasy when Yoh begins spending more and more time with an unattractive, but very persistent, prep school classmate of his... with good reason! It's obvious that this girl has the intention of breaking Haruna and Yoh up so that she can have him all for herself! She causes many fights and awkward situations between the two and even causes them to "break up"! Will Haruna and Yoh's bond be enough to get through this one? Or was this to be a short-lived love preordained from the very day the two met?

Miyabi was really irritating, and I /know/ I would have hated her in real life if I was /any/ of the six main characters, but... I just can't hate her in the book. I don't really want her to play much a role again in the series, but, I just can't hate her. She is just so... pitiful. Also, I really like Akito, her brother!! ;3 I would be upset, but I wouldn't mind that much if him and Haruna ended up together instead one day when/if it doesn't work out with Yoh.

Dafy says

La hermana de Akito fue muy horrible... Pero realista, la chica se obsesiona totalmente con nuestro querido Yoh ¡no perra, no me interesa que seas extremadamente fea, sino que también eres retorcida! Hizo de todo por separarlos, pero creo que al final... Terminó como todos esperábamos, me gustó mucho porque hacia en falta un poquito de drama, jajaja Haruna como siempre, una chica genial, esta vez tuvo un cambio en su personalidad, pero fue para bien ¡vamos, es Yoh!

Ms. Patterson says

Haruna gets jealous over some attention Yoh pays to an unattractive girl at his prep class. Unfortunately, that girl develops a crush on Yoh and schemes to break up Haruna and Yoh. After that near-disaster, Haruna wants to plan something special for Yoh's birthday and decides upon an overnight trip, not understanding what that implies.

Another excellent volume in such an adorable series. A rating.

Farhin says

I felt kinda bad for Miyabi tbh but as ridiculous as this storyline is she's pretty dislikable and manipulative.

At least her brother is cute though ^^

Haruna went from slim to round and chubby in one day (my life). Also Yoh's birthday...Haruna is so clueless sigh

Kimi says

I am such a sucker for Japanese high school drama tropes.

Shannon says

[changed Haruna's cell number to her own. I was honestly really freaking creeped out. And then she kept answering when Yoh called and pret

Robin says

This manga has a soft spot on my heart if only because it was one of the first more sillier shojo slice-of-life stuff I read. If you aren't looking for anything too serious or something goofy with a cute romance and fun characters, this is a great read.

Jenten0018 says

So Yoh and Haruna survived Miyabi's tricks. I figured they would.

Now another conflict arrives. An out of town trip together overnight. While Haruna originally didn't know what it meant I think she gets the jist now. I doubt they will do anything though. I don't think the two of them are rready for it. They're to awkward around each other.

Danielle says

Still an adorable series. Majorly disliking the girl who tries to come between Yoh and Haruna. She's ugly not for her apperance but for her personality. NO ONE comes between one of the most adorable couples in manga.

Tani says

The first half of this manga wraps up the storyline with homely girl who gets a crush on You. I felt pretty sympathetic to her at first, but then she does some pretty nasty things, and that made this storyline not my favorite. Jealous! Haruna is not my favorite either, so that bit was kind of a flop for me, although I did read it pretty quickly. Watching a train-wreck syndrome, I think.

The second half introduces our new story. With You's birthday fast approaching, Haruna comes up with the brilliant idea that they should take an overnight trip to celebrate. You know, so they can see places that they wouldn't be able to on a day trip, since they've already been everywhere nearby. Watching everyone's jaws drop when she bursts out with this idea was one of the funniest things in this manga in quite a while, and I laughed my way through the last part of the volume as a result. Looking forward to seeing the conclusion to this one!

Brianna says

This volume is most likely my favorite out all the volumes. It made go on a full roller coaster with how much Haruna and Yoh keep not understanding each other. Nevertheless, it was still an awesome volume.

Estara says

I did not like the antagonist and the way Yoh believes everything she says, artificially if you ask me, to extend the gimmick. I find her final portrayal next to her sainted brother massively offensive. Equally offensive is the fat-shaming Haruna goes through, especially as it's used to comedic effect - and of course one round of heavy duty exercising has it all melt off.

This storyline really shows that the manga should have stopped before then. There were good chapters to come but the fact that Kawahara-sensei was not stopped from doing this storyline really makes it clear they were grasping at straws to me.

I read this a loooong time ago.

(Like I said in a bunch of my other reviews . . . I hate when I procrastinate on reviews for the longest time. BECAUSE THEN I TOTALLY FORGET WHAT THE BOOK WAS ABOUT AND I'M NOT SURE WHAT TO WRITE!)

But what I remember is . . .

THIS GIRL WAS TEXTING HARUNA PRETENDING TO BE YOH, and TEXTING YOH PRETENDING TO BE HARUNA.

JEEEEEEEEEEEEEEZ that made me so angry.

I mean, not angry enough to like . . . launch the book across the room or out the window or into the next dimension. But still.

Like I said in my review for HIGH SCHOOL DEBUT Volume 2, I absolutely loathe when someone tries to interfere in a loving relationship between two people.

If they're happy, LEAVE. THEM. ALOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOONE!!

But then again, if there was no conflict, this wouldn't be as awesome of a story.

Michelle. D. says

I am writing about the overall series. I finished reading the entire series on January 7, 2011.

The overall series was pretty great. I gave it a 4 star rating. Let's talk about some things now.

I. Love. Yoh. I just love him. He is so adorable! And I hate that I have to say that. But I can't help myself, he is SO ADORABLE! AND cool, and awesome, and hot(lol) and all those other words to describe him. I love his personality and I love how he is easily embarrassed. He is just so ADORABLE!!!!!!!!!!!! I want him. And for all of you who think this is creepy(which it kinda is), I tend to fall for awesome fictional male characters. I LOVE YOH. And you would too if you ever read the manga.

Haruna. In the beginning of the manga I thought she was really, really stupid. REALLY STUPID. And then later on I thought she was really, really annoying and too much of a perfectionist. In the end, I ended up liking her. Maybe not in the ending because I didn't know my feelings for her in the end. She kinda made me have this weird angry-nice-weird-awkward vibe towards her. Her character is really thought out though. But overall, she's all right.

In the beginning of the book, I thought the whole concept was really kinda dumb. I mean, a love coach. That's just kinda ridiculous and desperate, which Haruna was, but pathetic. Though that whole concept fades later on, it was just really ridiculous. Ridic-u-lous. Ridiculous.

There are many parts that made me laugh or gag when I was reading this manga. Let's look back in my brain and take a moment to laugh at them. HAHAAHHA! LOL! LAWLS! OMG! OMG! HUH... FUNNY! AHHHAHHA LMAO!AHHAAHH!hohohohohohoho! omg! HILARIOUS.... Sigh... Huh... Funny.

Overall, the series was really great and funny and entertaining and sweet and sad and I recommend it to everyone I know and don't know. Though, the guys out there might now like it.

P.S. I really hate Assa.

I like Fumi.

I love Asaoka. ♥♥♥
