Look! A Book! Bob Staake

*Look! A book! A hook! A cowboy cook!
Weird and kooky things that go!
Some go fast and some go slow!
Can you find the squawking crow?*

Go on a crazy seek-and-find adventure in this new picture book from award-winning artist Bob Staake. Die-cuts on every page draw readers into each themed scene and invite them to find the items hidden within the elaborately detailed spreads. From underwater worlds, to haunted houses and tree-top towns, there are endless details for readers to search for and discover. This inventive picture book format will have kids hooked from the very first die-cut page all the way through to the end where a gate-fold finale challenges them to go back for yet another look and even more surprises.

Bob is best-known and widely celebrated for his picture books and this visual feast is some of his most exciting and creative work to date!

My daughter loved this book. She is a huge fan of look and find books. This book and it's sequel are both set up in the same way, so if you like one you will like the other. We liked the different themes of the spreads and had fun finding everything.

A really fun seek-and-find book. I haven't looked at Staake's other work but this is certainly enough to make me want to read more! In this 'zany seek-and-find adventure,' rhyming clues tell you what to find. And when you finish, another list sets you off to hunt through the pictures again. Definitely more fun than Waldo, this is sure to be a hit with lots of readers.

As with any interactive book, the biggest issue with this one is simply wear and tear. The pages are nice and heavy but between cut outs and extended pages, this one is going to have a short life.

Emily Green says

Another of Bug's favorites. This book is like Where's Waldo in that you are to search the pictures for different images. Bug does some of that, but she spends a lot of time just looking at the pictures and pointing random stuff out.

The kids loved this combo book and look and find. The unique windows made the big scenes even wackier. Really wonderfully illustrated!

Book Talk - Look! A Book! A Zany Seek-and-Find Adventure

What's your favorite mode of transportation? How will you travel through the pages of this book's crazy and wild adventure worlds? First you'll turn the page where you'll decide what vehicle you'll ride...Will you fly a helicopter, spaceship, or a plane? Maybe you will board a boat, hot air balloon, or train. Perhaps you'll settle for a car, or drive a truck, or dare to take the flying bicycle and jet-ski contraption. Hurry up! You'd better pick one, quick! The page is turning to your first adventure with a stampede of zoo and museum creatures and then you're heading off for an aqua-goofy jubilee far under in the deep blue sea. You won't stay for long – Merryworld waits for you to fill its roller coaster's seats. But wait! There's more! Hope you're not too scared of heights or you may have to skip the tree-houses of Treetop Town. And if you're brave, you'll venture into haunted houses and towns overrun with robots and with clowns!

So what are you waiting for? Hurry and open up this book! Pick your favorite mode of transportation, hold on tight through the adventures and remember, as you travel keep your eyes open wide so you may find the things that hide!

Kids will actually put down that DS - this one is perfect for road trips, waiting rooms and boring grown-up restaurants.

Finding out that Bob Staake writes, as well as illustrates, children's books more than three years after after I stopped working as a children's librarian is like showing up late to a really great party. I'm a bit annoyed that all these people have been having so much fun for so long without me, but, on the other hand, I am glad that I finally made it to the party. Had I known sooner, though, I would definitely have brought other people with me.

Look! A Book! is the perfect example of why I wish that I had discovered the weird and wonderful world that is a Bob Staake children's book earlier. The text is simple, fairly straightforward, and at times, silly; all that is great, but team that text with the brilliant, zany, cram-every-inch-with-action-on-every-page illustrations and the results are nothing short of magical. And those magical illustrations? -- they grace everything from the jacket, cover and end papers and every delightful page in between.

My little boy, at four, is the perfect age to enjoy the beautiful madness of this book. Maybe I did show up to the party at exactly the time, after all.

I just loved this book. It was like I Spy, but less irritating and way more exciting. Loved the rhymes and the surprises. It was so fun to read.

Amy says

So perfect for a toddlers and preschoolers! So much to look at. Not wordy. Seek-and-find based, but my son's imagination just takes off when exploring these pages at his pace.

Sarah says

I almost didn't read this because it looked too busy. What a tragedy that would have been! This book is FANTASTIC!

Matthew says

YES! A great I spy book whose illustrations are wacky yet interesting. This book has tremendous re-read value. Even though the author gives you a few challenges to find, it is great finding funny pictures and then trying to see if the kids can find them.

Great work!

Observation-style book (like I Spy) with interactive elements, bright colors, and humor; this book is appealing for many ages.
