Gabrielle (Wishes she had more time to read) says

Firstly: Kudos to Veronica Fish on the artwork in this one. It was beautiful.

I liked this issue much better than the last one. Conflict, cute characters, emotional tension? What's not to like?

Lilian says

Very well illustrated

Sadia Mansoor says

I love the cover.. so vibrantly colored! :)

The story is moving fine. The best thing till now after Archie - Betty breakup is that Archie still gets uncomfortable to see even a slightest touch between Sayed & Betty, which is kinda cute :D
But, he himself is so madly obsessed for Veronica & getting really close to her, which makes me sad & mad

Solace Winter says

This is better than the original, or older Archie, and yet Archie is still my least favorite character in the Archie universe.

Marisa Carpico says

Best issue yet in terms of Ronnie and Achie's characterization and relationship. Still miss Betty, but her name isn't on the cover so I get it.

Lorens says

The fact that mr.lodge would go to such lengths is scary, he would have uprooted a family not knowing anything about the people just to get his way. Then Archie still wants to stay with veronica? Weird, but Archie and his dad's character are so in sync it admirable. If veronica is so mad and dad to be at Riverdale, I wonder if her dad won't send her bombarding or private school to keep her away from Archie later on.
Living the art.

Manisha says

Cute and heartwarming. Lodge v. Andrews and the best man to come out of it is Archie's father.

Tar Buendía says

Estoy viendo Riverdale y por fin vuelvo a un Archie que me gusta. Por contra una Veronica que me da perecita de la buena. Eso sí, Jug y Betty <3

El tebeo sigue siendo entretenido, juvenil y fresco.

James Rodrigues says

Mark Waid builds on the conflict between Hiram Lodge and Archie, as the former strikes through Archie's father. The writing has made me care for the characters so much in such a small amount of time, with their relationships with one another being portrayed and developed in such a magnificent manner.

Never did I think Archie would become one of my favourite comics, but it most certainly is.

3.5/5 stars

That cover art. Hot damn, it's gorgeous. It is perfection. What more can you ask for? The color scheme, the cute American flag background, so cute and so perfect.

I liked a lot of things about this issue. I liked that Veronica got a cat just so her dad would think the hair he found on her sweater wasn't Archie's. I liked the emotional dilemma for Archie considering his father's job promotion. I liked the confrontation at the end of this issue.

Holly Letson says

Veronica lies to her father about seeing Archie behind his back. Her lie makes her end up having to buy a reddish-orange cat to cover her ass.

At the end of the issue, Veronica now has permission to see Archie, as long as her father never sees him. Um, yeah.....Let's see how long that BS works/lasts.

Personally, I liked the Archie comics a lot better when they were about the Betty - Archie - Veronica love triangle. It really sucks now that he pays Betty no attention, is totally obsessed with Veronica. Yes, obsessed. Not in love with - totally obsessed with Veronica.

Mary Elizabeth says

As usual, Mark Waid and Veronica Fish have brought to life a well-illustrated, paced and also serious comic featuring realistic and relatable concepts, such as relationships that are forbidden or frowned upon, the fear of being separated from your home and friends, financial instability and the pleasing your parents/ pleasing yourself conflict. Additionally, Waid keeps the readers engaged by giving Mr. Lodge a more "sneaky" background, ending the comic on an amusing cliffhanger and introducing commentary on marking Archie archives.

Sugandha Katoch says

Archie finally gets the much needed closure... Or does he? I'm happy for Betty, and really liked the part where she's still giving Archie her friendly advises. Jughead's a forever cutie too. We also get to see Moose this time around. But my real favorite characters from this issue were the dads, Mr. Lodge, and Mr. Andrews. They are such amazing dads. The story does complete justice to their characters. Props to Hot Dog on page #15.

Stacy says

Waid's got great pacing. This issue has a strong bout of conflict, and a great resolution. A very Archie kind of resolution. I'm proud of the characters. Sweet art!
