Sophia Triad says

The two brothers Revenant and Reaver -finally united- are trying to save their parents' souls from Sheoul.

Their mother's soul is easy to save.

"My boys."

Unfortunately their father's soul is doomed and Azagoth is not very helpful.

"We will take care of him," Azagoth promised.

A bittersweet short story. It may bring a few tears in your eyes.

Not sure how I feel about this. It is kind of sad and makes Azgoth into an ass. I actually liked Azgoth after his story.

This is special short story. It's getting Reaver's and Revenant's parents' souls out of Sheoul. This story made me teary. Felt sad for them for what Satan did to them after they died. Their soul trapped in Sheoul and put in Satan special torture chamber for his amusement. Dammit. So glad they are freed now but Sandalphon's soul who is the spitting image of Reaver, is evil thanks to Satan who force-fed his blood. His soul belongs to Azagoth, in Inner Sanctum. But Azagoth will take a good care of him for sure until Satan is killed and the blood taint is removed from Sandalphon's and Revenant's system. Lovely story. Mariel, the mother went to heaven and soon Sandalphon, the father will join someday. I cannot wait to see the day the boys meet their father and vice versa. The reunion with their mother, short as it was, was beautiful since Reaver has never seen his mother before. I loved this short story. You, Ms. Larissa Ione write incredible stories.
