When an old friend buys a trenchcoat and opens his own detective agency, PI Cat DeLuca sees a train wreck. Because everything Billy Bonham knows about being a private dick, he learned from Humphrey Bogart. And that's just enough to make him dangerous.

The bungling detective is way over his head on a case involving murder and a stolen pair of Marilyn Monroe's dazzling diamond earrings. His outrageous client, Cristina McTigue, is pursued by men who want her dead. Five minutes after meeting the woman, Cat would cheerfully kill her too.

When Billy is gunned down on the street, it's up to Cat to save his crazy client and nail a murderer. She soon finds herself dodging bullets, knee-deep in trouble, and chasing diamonds. Before it's over, she'll be helped by her sexy FBI boyfriend, a hunky ex-spy, her outrageous Italian family of Chicago cops, and her interfering Mama who keeps the cannoli coming.

With a cast of zany characters and a pace that's unrelenting, this laugh-out-loud mystery is best served hot.

Cheri says

The cover says "Fans of Janet Evanovich will enjoy meeting Cat DeLuca." Well, I can say, for sure, that fans of Janet will recognize that the sisters Larsen stole most of the Stephanie Plum format. The heroine is a 30 something single female, who has the law enforcement boyfriend (like Joe Morelli) and the hot law enforcement type on the side (like Ranger.) She has a dysfunctional Italian family, including a mother, who feeds her and tries to get her to get married, like Stephanie's mama does. She has a pet (like Stephanie's hamster) and a female side kick, who is wacky and carries too much armament (like Lulu.) The big differences are that Cat is a detective, not a bounty hunter, and there's no Grandma Mazur. Also, the book is not funny, like a Stephanie novel.

Other than resenting the above, on Janet's behalf, I enjoyed the book, well enough.

enjoyable mystery series. reminiscent of Stephanie Plum.

Another winner by K. J. Larsen (actually 3 sisters collaborating). I'm originally from the Chicago area and get a kid out of reading about the neighborhoods too.

This time Cat is out for revenge for the death of her childhood friend Billy Bonham. Of course, in order to attain said revenge, she enlists the help of all of her friends and family, and there are plenty of both. Doesn't hurt at all to have brothers who are Chicago cops and a steady who is FBI. Even with all the help, she still manages to put herself in situations that could easily result in her death, but at least she'll go down fighting! All I can say is K.J., please keep Cat in one piece for many, many more adventures.

Some Like It Hot by K.J Larsen was just released this week, on March 5, 2013. I was lucky enough to get an advanced copy for my Kindle. The main character is Cat DeLuca and when her business partner and friend ends up dead, she sets out to solve the last case he was working on and find out who killed him. With an array of gun toting characters, tough guys and intimidating cops, there is never a dull moment in Cat's life. That being said, though, this book left me a bit underwhelmed. To me it is very reminiscent of the Stephanie Plum novels Janet Evanovich, however I very much prefer the Plum novels. I'm not sure if its because Some Like It Hot is actually the third book in the 'Cat DeLuca' series and I read it first. Maybe if I would have started with the first book I would have a better appreciation for the characters and the plot ... It's not an overall BAD book, I just found that I couldn't connect with any of the characters and I wasn't really rooting for anyone (not even the bad guys had my attention). I doubt I will read any of the other books in this series.

Welcome back to Cat DeLuca and her Pants on Fire Detective Agency!

I love this series!

This is another great laugh-out-loud story! I highly recommend this series to anyone who loves Janet Evanovich. Larsen's stories might be a tad better for some people, only because "she" does not use as many bad words.

This is the third book in the Cat DeLuca Mystery series, the author K.J. Larsen is actually three sisters writing together. That boggles the mind! Promoted as a Janet Evanovich Stephanie Plum read-alike and I would agree. The setting is Chicago and not New Jersey. :( We have Cat (Stephanie Plum), her sidekick Cleo (Lulu), and two romantic interests Chance and Max (Ranger and Morelli). Of course, Cat never has her gun, just some ever present chapstick and car troubles. Her dad and brother are cops and support her activities which is about the only real difference from the Plum family. But where is Grandma Mazur? Cat DeLuca will fill in the time while waiting for the next Stephanie Plum.

These are such quick reads -- and just fun.

I love reading this series and see what people in Bridgeport are up to. Cat gets herself into all sorts of trouble in this one. From a murder of friend of Cat's to Marilyn Monroe's missing earrings. When Cat tries to find out who killed Santa Claus aka Billy Bonham a friend of hers from way back, the first boy she kissed, the one who told her he was going to marry him when they were kids.

One of Billy's cases is protecting a girl named Cristina McTigue who is more trouble than she is worth. With crazy people who want something she has, or they think she has. Cat has a lot to deal with Cristina is a crazy chick unto herself. Cat has to rely on using her family of cops to help her a lot in this case.

Let alone the release of Devin from his drug treatment who is set on driving Cat insane. How she deals with it at times is a wonder add in Cleo the gun toting crazy gun chick, it's always a laugh to pick up this series and see how everyone is doing and how many times Cat's mom can go to father Timothy over her daughter's crazy lifestyle.

This is an awesome series something I would compare to Janet Evanovich's Stephanie Plum. Definitely the same level of crazy family members. It is so much fun to read K.J. Larsen's book and the world they have created and I learned abit about the authors as well. Kudos to the Larsen sisters.

Cat DeLuca doesn't chase murderers; she chases cheaters, like her lying ex-husband. But when her high school buddy Billy Bonham is gunned down while walking his mother's dog, she decides to make an exception. After all, she knows who the murderer must be--the dude that Billy, who thinks he's a private eye like Bogart, is trying to investigate for a client. Cat takes over the client, only to learn that she lied to Billy and she's lying to Cat. Cat's allies include her family of policemen, her kooky assistant, and her FBI-man boyfriend; her enemies are numerous, too.

Some Like it Hot is the third Cat Deluca mystery. This book is scheduled for a March 2013 release. This book was published by Poisoned Pen Press.

Cat's old friend, Billy has started his own private detective agency. His first case turns out to be a too much for Billy to handle and he ends up dead. Cat and her trigger happy assistant decide to finish up Billy's cases for him.

Four years ago the robbery of a set of famous earrings worn by Marilyn Monroe in the movie "Some Like it Hot" cost a man his life, and another spent four years in prison. Now the surviving parties are all out to find the earrings. Cat has help from her FBI boyfriend Chance and her large Italian family as they search for the earrings and Billy's killer.

This novel falls into the chick lit/mystery genre. If you like the Stephanie Plum type novels, you will probably like this one.

Cat and Cleo usually catch cheating spouses and boyfriends, so this was a change of pace for them. Cat's family is large and Italian and the setting is in Chicago.

K.J. Larsen is the pen name for three sisters that write this series.

This was fun caper style mystery with lots of humor and quirky characters.

Overall a B+ Thanks to the publisher and netgalley for the ARC

The owner of Pants On Fire Detective Agency, Cat DeLuca, knows a train wreck when she sees one, and seeing her old friend, Billy Bonham, in a Santa suit being chased from a bar she knows she's watching one. When she finds out Billy has taken the correspondence course on how to become a PI and has purchased a trench coat, she reluctantly gets involved. Billy is in way over his head with a case involving murder and a stolen pair of Marilyn Monroe's earrings, not to mention a client who has the potential to get everyone killed. When Billy is gunned down on the street, Cat takes over and finds herself dodging bullets and knee-deep in trouble.

Third in the Cat DeLuca Mystery series does not disappoint. With her sexy FBI boyfriend, ex-spies, her family of Chicago cops, and her mother, it makes for laugh-out-loud reading. I really enjoyed this book and enjoyed the characters. If I ever need a PI, I'd like to hire Cat.

Anne, Unfinished Woman says

I thought the first couple of installments of this series were pretty good, but the author could not sustain my interest in this third one.

Eco Imp says

A quick read. Starting to get a "Murder,She Wrote" feel. I have to agree with Bob about Cat being a death magnet.

I'll admit I am mentally comparing Savino to Ranger. Not sure who is winning right now!

Tracy says

This series is so much fun! Cat is hilarious and so easy to love! In her adventures the culprit is never who you think it is and it is really fun watching the events unfold. Cat owns Pants on Fire Detective Agency which is known for catching the cheater but Cat has a different view of what she does. She claims to be a private detective even though her mom claims she takes pictures of naked people. Cat does prove to be a very good detective.

When Cat was 8 years old she became engaged to Billy. Of course, that lasted a day but now years later someone kills him and Cat is determined to find out who it was. The police have no idea who could have committed the murder but Cat is there to save the day! She gets a lot of knocks and bruises trying to get to the end of the road but eventually she does.

I would recommend this series if you are looking for light and funny because it has it.

Robert Scott says

+Probably would deserve a higher rating, except although I enjoy reading these novels, surely no one could possibly get into so many self made scrapes or deal with such a widespread, willing to join in cast of supporting oddball characters. If you like Evanovich's Stephanie Plum or Lisa Lutz's Isabel Spellman, you will love Cat DeLuca. This one involves stolen diamond earrings once worn by Marilyn Monroe and an old boyfriend.+
