Sunshine Girl Carmen Reid

The St Jude's girls are taking a super-fun trip to visit Gina's amazing LA home, but there are upsets and excitement for Gina, Niffy, Amy and Min this term. Will Amy finally find out who her mother is? And will Gina decide between her two love interests? And what about Min — is she just getting too wrapped up in her crazy science discoveries?

Sunshine Girl is the fifth book in the Secrets at St Jude's series and is my favourite of the books so far.

The book follows four friends who each attend the boarding school St Jude's. Gina has to decide between two boys. Amy is deciding whether she wants to find out more about her mum. Niffy is causing mischief and having fun with her friends and Min is busy looking into science and bugs.

I liked how in this book and despite there own issues they were trying to work out, we got to see the friends together and take a holiday to LA. It was fun to read about the girls in a different location and see how differently they'd act to if they been at school in Scotland. It gave us a good chance to read about Gina's life in America rather than her being away from home at school.

I think it's good how we got to see the friends differences in this book as although they all are friends at school it shows that given the opportunity they don't all agree on everything and if that means they don't want to go to the beach then that's their choice. It was good how they used their time in America to inspire their fundraising activity but I found it a little predictable. I'd have preferred for the whole book to have been based in LA, I found it strange that they arrived back to the UK well before the book had ended.

I think this is a good book in the series and a nice summer read. I look forward to seeing what happens next with the girls at St Judes.

A great read for young teenagers and a good starting point for young readers, the whole collection is great and fun. This collection may even make you want to go to boarding school! Teenagers, boys and gossip, what's not to love?
