Stray Love Hearts, Vol. 03 Aya Shouoto , Aya Shouoto

On the eve of her sixteenth birthday, Kozue Hiyoki is visited in her dreams by a man who steals her heart-literally! Determined to find him and retrieve her stolen heart, Hiyoki, with the color of the man's hair and the tattoo on his chest as her only leads, enrolls in the S-Hall dormitories of St. Nazareth Academy, but quickly realizes that its residents are not at all like she expected... For starters, they're all guys!

There, Hiyoki soon discovers that she has the ability to look inside her dorm-mates' dreams, which may be the key to uncovering the identity of the thief who stole her heart.... But perhaps her biggest challenge is that most of the guys won't let Hiyoki into their rooms, much less their hearts!

I love the art and I love the author. Some points in this story felt drawn out, but over. Almost like some of the character side stories didn't really fit with the personalities that had been presented at the beginning of the story line, but that could have been what the author was going for.

Humor, cute, and personal discovery. The broken heart symbol is also very pretty.

More problems for Hiyoki to deal with.

Can she stop S-Dorm from being demolished ?

What is with the student body president's attitude toward Hiyoki ?

A few more questions of mine.

Does Hiyoki ever do any school work ?

Does the bracelet mean more than the obvious one ?

How many men are fighting over her, and will there be more ?

What about her dorm supervisor, is he really a mage, magus, wizard, or sorcerer ?

Does Hiyoki ever wash her uniform ?

Sorry, but I really think about these things when reading this manga.

I LOVE CAIN!!!

there's some mystery going on...

Next Vol.4!

Is a great book to read

Grace Kelley says

[How can he be a loving and caring partner to her when he practically forces her into slavery, yes, its obvious where this relationship is going, but still, if I did so

Chapter 9 - At the mall with Kuga! XD Ren is going bonkers muhahah. And not only! Kuga's taste in girl clothes =_=_

UUU, Ren is getting ready for serious business. (PS: Dorky glasses FTW)

Chapter 10 - And Kain/Cain(?) saves the day with his bossy attitude.

Awww, Bromance :D! More Ren, yaaay!

Chapter 11 - Little kid whose name I always forget even after 2 seconds from reading it...creepy. Aha.

Asukai-sempai! Still creepy little boy!

Uuuuu Kain/Cain (?) want's a little slave ahem ahem. :))

Ohohoho. Gay love! It was bound to happen. No wonder it involved creepy little guy who likes fluffy stuff.

Chapter 12 - A bracelet to seal the contract of slavery...how Honey Honey Drops. :D (and of course he would have preferred a collar - he always struck me a little SM) Fifth room Asukai- Welcome to gay world :)) He indeed likes girly things. SO cute! :)) Ohhh....my bad O-o I was mistaken!

A. E. S. says

Hiyoki continues to look for the man who stole her heart. Meanwhile, Cain struggles with a mysterious past and winds up glomping her soaking wet from the shower...and falling asleep that way! Laughs and mystery abound. Also, a vacation happens and the five guys + Hiyoki get stranded on an island.

Yay! The plots going somewhere. And this was a really cute volume! Very funny too, I thoroughly enjoyed it but I'm too sleepy to read the next one so I'll just leave that for now. My favourite book of the whole manga series so far.

Dominus~ says

Go to Book 1 :P

Series Review: Stray Love Hearts is a unique and intriguing manga. To me the characters were what really drew me to the story as the plot gets less interesting between the beginning and end. I became more interested in the characters and their past as the series went on. The ending was surprising and over all a good way to end the series though I was a bit sad it was so short. I recommend giving this series a try.

Have you read any work by Aya Shouoto so far? If it's your first try, you will get the feel of her immensely. My other favourite work by her is Pureblood + Boyfriend a. I'll cover it some other time. Okay, now let's get back to the story

Why I loved this series so much that I even re-read it 3 times and also fourth time to cover it ere? The answer is pretty simple. First of all, the entire plot is pretty interesting with the whole main protagonist's heart being stolen and all that jazz... second? Heh, this is my favourite – lots of bishies. Oh I guess you may not know what a bishie is. Hot looking guy in plain words, but doesn't bishie sound more fun? You get drool over any guy there, maybe except Azusa, but that was only for me, who know maybe you'll like him the most.

The person who makes you droll a lot and at the same time frustrates you even more is Cain - the student council president. From eh very first pages he just makes an entrance as the bad guy, and it would have stucked perfectly to him if we are not shown his good sides throughout the story. I think the guy didn't even understand why he wanted to monopolize Hiyoki in the very beginning. Pathetic as it seems, he makes an amazing character and fan girl material for a long time.

The story catches your interest from the very beginning with a unique idea. Okay, the harem is not that new, but how Hiyoki ended up in the harem, that's what was interesting. Shouoto sensei doesn't disappoint in the fantasy and mystery division. She brings to life so many interesting ideas and no matter what kind of hypothesis you try to conclude she just takes and breaks all stereotypes as a will as your ideas, presenting something absolutely new and interesting.

I hope you'll find some time to read this great story. Set yourself with Hiyoki on a journey to retrieve her heart and have fun in a world of hot guys. There are only 20 chapters, but every one of those is full of secrets that wait for you to unravel them. Enjoy it to its fullest and don't forget to share your thoughts below.
