I loved this! There are no words in it but the drawings are wonderful and can convey the story well. My favorite was the one where the bird nest fell on his head! I laughed so hard!

The cutest series! The last story in this volume was really sad though :(

I particularly loved the one where he helps the elephant in this book.

I love "Gon"; it is a thoroughly unique combination of extremely detailed nature drawing, a fanciful miniature dinosaur marooned in a geologically modern world (though one without humanity's presence) that somehow fits in perfectly, and tales of adventure that the writer/artist pulls off without a single word, thought balloon, or even sound effect. This volume has the grim-faced little dino plowing through a number of natural disasters, and while it's neither the funniest nor most brutal of the series, the art is, as always, absolutely incredible.
