The Character of God's Workman Watchman Nee (Contributor) , Herbert L. Fader (Editor) , Stephen Kaung (Translator)

Covenant or contract is an important theme in the Bible. God made covenants with His people. He deals with them according to the covenants He made with them. Today we are under God's New Covenant. For all God's dealings with us in addition to our dealings with God will be governed by this

New Covenant. We are therefore called to have New Covenant

Living as well as New Covenant Ministry. It is hence extremely essential for us to be sure that our living and ministry are of the New Covenant way.

Forest says

not this version

---

Paul says

This book delves into material I have not seen by any other author in what God requires of his servants.

Jeffrey Gan says

Indeed, to be a worker of the Lord is to be the work of the Lord

Paul says

Great look at how God deals with and builds the character of a leader. Richer and deeper than many current leadership works.

Amy says

While the content of this book is excellent, the style drove me crazy. It's the only one of my course books I gave away. I think they were transcripts of a sermon. It reminds me of someone who says something several different ways to ensure it sticks with the audience -- in speaking, it's fine; in reading, it made me feel like I was reading the special Ed version-- "I understood it the first time!!" I'm sure it's me--others in my class loved it.

Joy Olarte says

You want to get deeper in your relationship with God - this is a great study tool to have on hand. It's very indepth in solid truths about God.

Brett Fuglsby says

Watchman Nee does a terrific job of laying out what the worker for Christ looks like. It's by no means perfect but it's quite close. The biggest thing I got out of it was 'having a mind to suffer'.

Jessica Lowery says

This is a favorite for me - especially "Be not subjective" chapter. Very convicting book.
