"Better Done than Perfect"

Magdy Shonoda says

(My rating: 1.5)

Few days before I start reading the book, I read this quote:

.. "Labeling a circular path as a "complex sinusoid" is like describing a word as a "multi-letter". You zoomed into the wrong level of detail. Words refer to concepts, and yes, they can be broken down into letters -- but don't start there!" ..

I am not sure exactly why, but whenever I read in the book, that quote kept repeating itself inside my mind.

The book is nice. - I liked it.

but, and at the same time, I did not like it much, I am not saying its content is bad, but maybe not my type of thing reading.

I finished it because: I know the author personally (and here is a question I do not have an answer for; what if I do not know Yasmine?..), the later chapters were more interesting, and I just wanted to finish it.

Some of the explanations are what I call: weak reasoning. Some of the connections were not strong enough! and many of the projections were kinda artificial or.. overrated. (not sure of the label..)
and will you be surprised if I said: I wished if it were more deep?! more touching! if it had me to think/wonder more!

However, while reading, I cannot deny that many of the projections were: true stories (aka. I felt them), if you know what I mean. :)

The chapters I liked the most:

- ???? ??? ???????
- ???????
- ????? ??? (a big :) goes here)
- ?? ?????? ??? (respect)

(kinda the chapters that had a certain kind of conversations inside, maybe referring to a concept or something, and/or a small sense of imagination and wonder! -- in others words, the chapters that made me think a little bit!)

And of course, those short little intro quotes before each chapter, maybe were the best thing I liked!

(A final comment on the last chapter:

.. "What you get by achieving your goals is not as important as what you become by achieving your goals." ~ Zig Ziglar

.. balance between "Be a journey based -vs- destination driven." ..

"You never did get it, did you? Its never been about the money – its about the game!".. but .. "playing the game the right way isn't good enough – it needs to be played for the right reason: it has to be played to build something, to see something grow."

"????? ?????? ?????? ??? ?????? ?????? ?????? ?????? ?????? ???????" , and you certainly did. :)

You have a telnet (I kinda consider this quite rare), Keep moving!
Well done and I mean it.
