Here's to Friends! Melody Carlson

In the final book in Melody Carlson's popular series, the four Lindas learn that life doesn't stop for the holidays and even a cruise can rock your boat.

Here's to Friends carries our favorite fifty-somethings through the holidays to a New Year cruise to a romantic hometown wedding with plenty of bumps in between. As they struggle to reinvent themselves at midlife—coping with marital woes, a creative crisis, a financial tsunami, a prodigal child and (scariest of all!) a home remodel—Abby, Janie, Caroline and Marley must all come to terms with the need to give their worries over to God. And they learn once more that in your fifties, friendships aren't just fun. They're an absolute necessity!

Denzel L Struchen says

Friendship

In a day and age where schoolmates are scattered around the world, four friends have hung together through thick and thin. Their faith in God and each other help them to overcome daily struggles and Satan's lies.

Loveta says

Friendship at its best !

I loved how the four Linda's stayed together through thick and thin. Lifting each other up as needed, caring, sharing and giving.

Liz says

Fun, Realistic and Riveting!

Melody Carlson knows how to write a great read with interesting characters, some riveting experiences and the down-to-earth details of living life day to day expertly woven together! AND God gets mentioned, and prayer, and faith!

Lovely, just lovely.... I am sad to say good-bye to the Four Lindas...

Title: HERE'S TO FRIENDS

Author: Melody Carlson

Publisher: David C. Cook

September 2011

ISBN:

Genre: Women's fiction

Once upon a time in a little town on the Oregon coast lived four Lindas—all in the same first-grade classroom. So they decided to go by their middle names. And form a club. And be friends forever.

Decades later, they're all back home in Clifden and reinventing their lives, but the holidays bring a whole new set of challenges. Abby's new B&B is getting bad reviews and husband Paul is acting strange. Still grieving for her mom, Caroline is remodeling the family home, but boyfriend Mitch keeps pressuring her to go away with him. Artist Marley, distracted by a friend's family drama (and a touch of jealousy), can't find her creative groove. And Janie's drug-addicted daughter has just appeared up on her doorstep! When a long-planned New Year's cruise turns into a bumpy ride, they learn once again that, in your fifties, friends aren't just for fun—they're a necessity!

HERE'S TO FRIENDS is the fourth book in Ms. Carlson's The Four Lindas Series. This book does not stand alone. Readers will want to read As Young As We Feel, Hometown Ties, and All for One first before starting this story, so they are not completely lost.

Ms. Carlson is a very prolific author, with the ability to write in many different genres. I like some of her books a lot more than others, and this series wasn't one of my favorites. Maybe because the characters are so much older than I am, I just couldn't completely relate.

The book is well written, and engaging, the characters facing realistic struggles. I probably could relate to Marley best, as sometimes real life does affect the creative groove. Fans of women's fiction and women in their mid-fifties or older might enjoy HERE'S TO FRIENDS or this series. $14.99. 320 pages.

Nellie says

The final book of the 4 Lindas.

Abby's bed and break is u and running.

Janie's law practice is starting.

Caroline is having her house remodelled.

Marley's art career is taking off.

Abby won a cruise for 4 at the end of book 3. This trip is in the book.

Lovely conclusion to the series.

Lynel says

Great time spent amongst friends!

Leslie Whiteside says

Great story line

Four separate yet connecting storylines. Well written. Plenty of believable drama. Fun to find a book about middle aged women.

Sue Grant says

I would love to be part of the inner circle of the Four Lindas. Too bad I'm a Sue. The Lindas feel like friends I have had & now have. Not a sugary sweet read, but does have some interesting insights into life & what friends mean in our lives. There trials are real, as well as they way they challenge & support each other. Definitely worth the read time!

Lyn says

Predictable but I enjoyed the light reading of all four books in this series.

Susan says

Another Delightful Chapter in the Four Lindas series

Melody Carlson has done it again. Another installment in the Four Lindas series that enchanted and delights as the Four friends continue to find their ways together as they enter the 55 plus chapters of their lives.

Lynn McGinnis says

I will miss the Four Lindas!

Thank you for a fun, light read. I definitely recommend the series and the author. I look forward to reading her other series.

Diana says

Not my favourite Melody Carlson series (which could have something to do with the fact that I'm about 40 years younger than the main characters which makes it harder to relate), but all in all a good book and series.

Stacy Shawiak saysCouldn't put it down

Relatable characters. Intriguing plot. Enjoyable, easy, and fun to read. I started with Book 4, but now I want to go back and read the first 3.

Heidi Matheson says

A pleasant and enjoyable read. I haven't read the previous books in the series but that didn't seem to matter.
