Nicole Magolan says

I feel a bit weird rating this. It's one of my favourite childhood books, I read it when I was about 8 years old and was absolutely in love with it. It's a very charming and magical little story, and I did enjoy revisiting it. Doesn't really hold up anymore, but I wasn't expecting it too.

I can remember looking up at the night sky, wishing I could fly up into the stars...

Lucy says

One of the best books ever. I love Linda Chapman! You should totally read this book.

Lucypriest says

My childhood book! I couldn't remember what the name of this book was I researched for about an hour. This inspired my love of reading - I'm currently doing an English degree and this is one of the first books I remember devouring. I have devoured many since. This book will always have a special place in my heart.

Chanel Earl says

I told my daughter that if she would read a book I chose, then I would let her choose a book for me. So, she read "The Life-changing Magic of Tidying Up" and I read this. This book wasn't really written for my demographic, and I found it to be predictable and simple. I read it in about an hour, which meant that it was worth it to make the trade (My other daughter and I made a similar deal and she has decided to choose David Copperfield, so that one will take a lot longer).

Even though I didn't really like it, my daughter loves it, and I'm glad. It is imaginative, positive and the title character shares her name. So, not bad for a ten-year-old, but not good for her mom.

Blaze Rio says

Best children's book ever!

Mabel Weir says

I read this book in less than 24 hours! I rate it five stars because it's just amazing!

I it's all about a nine year old girl called Lucy and she is a stardust spirit.

SilverOwl910 says

I first read this book when I was 10. I know that it's a bit late to start reading them, and it took me half a day to finish, but two years later I'm still in love with these books as much as I was when I first read them. I'm reading much older books now, but these books will always have special place in my heart.

Rhiannon says

this book made me fall into a world of magic!

Keira says

I feel like these books could have been combined like books 1-4 should have been one books, or maybe two, because it always felt like they stopped in the middle of a chapter rather than the middle of a book. Apart from that, though, I really enjoyed re-immersing myself in the Stardust world.

Riley Wolfrick says

I can't believe I found this! I used to read this to my little sister when I was a KID!

Honey says

When I was younger, I used to believe... I remember staring at the sky every night and wishing I could disappear into the stars...

Abbi says

Omg I just remembered what I loved so much about these books. This first book was as amazing as I remember it being and I'm so glad i found this series again.

Loved this series as a kid, definitely my favourite childhood book.

Hope I can pass this series onto my children one day.

Megan says

I used to love these books, and after finding them in the attic decided to re-read them due to nostalgia. You wanna know a secret?...I used to think the storyline was true cringe. Of course these books are aimed at young kids but I still enjoyed the story! I found this first one in the series a bit boring though...it was generally an introduction.

I can assure you that many girls aged between maybe 7-10 would like these books! I certainly did back then. I read this very quickly because of the very simple and easy yet surprisingly descriptive language - perfect for early readers.

Carolien Gonçalves says

I USE TO LOVE THIS BOOKS. I read them a few years ago and I was crazy about them. I think I started to like reading because of them.

Ishaal Ramroop says

I read this when I was younger, I know it's a girly book but the cover looked interesting so I decided to read it, to my surprise it was actually good I may even try go read the other Linda Chapman books.
